Chestnut Hill Travel Advisory

Chestnut Hill is located about 10 miles West of Boston's Logan Airport and it may take from 20 minutes to 24 minutes via Interstate 90 East Highway to the Boston's Logan Airport depending on traffic. Via Cambridge St and I-90 E Highway it may take 20 minutes to 25 minutes depending on traffic. Please allow plenty of time to make sure you will not be late for your flight.

Chestnut Hill is an affluent New England village located six miles (10 km) west of downtown Boston. Like all Massachusetts villages, Chestnut Hill is not an incorporated municipal entity, however, unlike most Massachusetts villages, it encompasses parts of three separate municipalities, each located in a different county: the town of Brookline in Norfolk County; the city of Boston in Suffolk County, and the city of Newton in Middlesex County. Chestnut Hill is not a topographical designation; the name refers to several small hills that overlook the Chestnut Hill Reservoir. The village is best known as the home of Boston College, part of the Boston Marathon route, and the Collegiate Gothic canvas of landscape architect Frederick Law Olmsted as well.
